7. Any rebuttal experts that may be needed based on the experts designated by Defendant.

II.

Plaintiffs reserve the right to amend and/or supplement this designation with additional designations of experts within the time limits imposed by the Court or any modification of same by subsequent Court Order or agreement of the parties, or pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure in the event it learns through discovery or otherwise that additional experts and/or witnesses who may potentially provide expert opinions and/or conclusions are necessary and/or available.

III.

Plaintiffs reserve the right to elicit, by way of cross-examination, opinion testimony from experts designated and called by other parties to this suit. Plaintiffs express its intention to possibly call, as witnesses associated with adverse parties, any of the other party's designated expert witnesses as adverse expert witnesses.

IV.

With respect to persons identified during the course of discovery as “persons with knowledge of relevant facts,” the current list of which was produced in Plaintiffs’ Initial Disclosures previously served on Defendant, Plaintiffs specifically reserve the right to elicit such “expert” or “lay opinion” testimony as may fall within these witnesses’ education, training and/or experience, regardless of the fact that such witnesses are presently expected to testify regarding merely factual matters related to the incident in question and have not been formally retained by Plaintiffs as witnesses to testify as an expert, provided such testimony would benefit the jury to determine material issues of fact and be consistent with any applicable Court Order and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Federal Rules of Evidence.
